

Roman villa of Sant'Imbenia
County road SP55 | Porto Conte [Le Prigionette]

Opening times: Saturday and Sunday 10am-1pm/3:30pm-6:30pm

The Roman villa of Sant'Imbenia is an archaeological complex dating back to the Roman ages. It was built between the end of the 1st century BC and the beginning of the 1st century AD, and used by Roman patricians as a place of rest and leisure. The villa consisted of a manor area and a rustic section, intended for agricultural production. Located just a few metres from the seashore, it still offers an extraordinary view of the Bay of Porto Conte, the ancient roman Portus Nympharum [the Nymphs' Harbour].

Military Airport of Alghero

State road SS291 | Fertilia - Santa Maria La Palma

Opening times: Saturday and Sunday 9am-1pm (12pm last admission)/2pm-7pm (6pm last admission).

The use of face masks is mandatory when entering the air raid shelter and visiting the indoor areas.

The construction work of the airport, located in the area of "La Nurra", began the 10th July 1937 and it was open on the 28th March 1938. The buildings, as still visible, have the common architecture of "standardized type called Balbo" that even today are visible in other airports. The airport remained continuously operating during the war, before and after September 8, 1943, although it was also undermined by the German army. It was around that time the pilot-French writer Antoine de Saint-Exupéry was assigned to the squadron of the reconnaissance group of the Allied Forces stationed at the airport. To the French writer was paid the transit lounge.

Parish church of Santa Maria La Palma

2 Olbia Sq. | Santa Maria La Palma

Opening times: Saturday 4pm-7pm - Sunday 10 am-1 pm / 4pm-7pm

The parish church, the name of which is shared with the burg in which it is located, Santa Maria La Palma, got its name from an illusion to the Virgin Mary. The name was given to all houses of worship during the agrarian reform of the Nurra area in the 50's. Inaugurated in 1953, it was built by ETFAS, the organisation in charge of transformation of the mining and agriculture activity of Sardinia.

CÀLIC nature trail

Access from the EGEA Eco-Museum 21 State road SS127bis | Fertilia

Opening times: Saturday and Sunday 10am-12pm/4pm-7pm

The Càlic Lagoon is an integral portion of the Porto Conte Regional Park, and one of the most significant natural wetlands on the Coral Riviera and throughout the Nurra region, the historic name for the island's north-western lands. Its waters, with an average depth of just over a metre, cover 97 hectares and are over two and a half kilometres long, expanding in parallel with Alghero's coastline, from which it is on average 400 metres away. The wetland is linked to the sea by the large canal of Fertilia, 60 metres wide and two metres deep, which happens to be the deepest part of the pond that houses the small marina of the village, whose original settlement was precisely the village of Càlic. Where it faces the sea, the lagoon is overlooked by the ruins of a Roman bridge, later rebuilt in the Middle Ages.

Land Gate Tower  1
Porta Terra Sq. | Alghero's historic town centre

Opening times: Saturday and Sunday
10am – 1pm / 4pm – 8pm

The use of face masks is mandatory

Renamed Torre di Porta Terra in the Sabaudian period, this tower was initially known as The Royal Gate—the main entrance to the town. The tower was surmounted by the coat-of-arms in stone of the Crown of Aragon, which is today housed inside. The gate, closed at dusk, served as the means of entry and exit to the town up until its demilitarization at the end of the 19th century.

Diocesan Museum of Sacred Art  2
1 Duomo Sq. | Alghero's historic town centre

Opening times: Saturday and Sunday
10 am -1pm / 4 pm - 8 pm

The use of face masks is mandatory

It is located in the historic city centre, near the Cathedral, set in the old Rosary Church. The Church is originated from a civil construction dating back to the Medieval Age, from which the two blind portals be proof with dichromic ashlars on the left side of the façade bear witness. When the Catalan domination took over, the factory was enlarged and became the home of a patrician family.

Cathedral of Saint Mary Immaculate Conception  3
2 Duomo Sq. | Alghero's historic town centre

Opening times:
Saturday 10am-1 pm / 3pm - 6pm / 7:15pm - 8pm
Sunday 3pm-6pm

The construction of the Cathedral began in the second half of the 16th century. The first building was begun in 1567: the radial chapels found behind the presbytery and the belfry with a portal in the Gothic-Catalan style date back to this period. The Cathedral is distinguished by its imposing neoclassical pronaos (temple-like entrance hall), planned in 1862 by the Archpriest Michele Dessi Magnetti and placed against the older Renaissance façade.

Church of Saint Anna Intra-Moenia (Inside the Walls)  6
Roma St. | Alghero's historic town centre

Opening times: Saturday and Sunday
10am-1pm / 4pm-8pm

The use of face masks is mandatory

Built in the 18th century, this church demonstrates architectural elements executed in the late Renaissance style, which are evident above all in the elegant portal. The church stands in an area that, in ancient times, was used as a cemetery. It is therefore also known as the Old Church of the Fossar, a Catalan term meaning “cemetery”.

Casa Manno Museum  4
23 Santa Barbara St. | Alghero's historic town centre

Opening times:
Saturday and Sunday 10am-1pm / 4pm-8pm

The use of face masks is mandatory

The Museum has a considerable heritage exhibition consisting of furniture, paintings, sculptures, prints, old books, correspondence, manuscripts and original records, highly valued from an historical and artistic point of view. The exhibition is interspersed with the Sardinian intellectual's most representative pages of his existence, and offers through some multimedia tools a glimpse of an era full of change and essential to the national unification process within the Italian history.

Church of Santa Barbara  5
Santa Barbara St. Alghero's historic town centre

Opening times: Saturday and Sunday
10am-1pm / 4pm-7pm

The use of face masks is mandatory

The first mention of the Church of St. Barbara, which had originally been dedicated to St. Andrew, dates back to 1526. There are, however, elements that date the structure back to the 14th century. Some valuable icons (dating from the 16th to the 19th centuries) render the interior precious as a place of worship. Since 2008, the Holy Orthodox Archdiocese of Italy and Malta has been officiating at religious services.

Civic theatre  7
7 Teatro Sq. | Alghero's historic town centre

Opening times:
Sunday 10am-1:30pm / 3pm-8pm

The use of face masks is mandatory

In virtue of the increasingly liberal ideas of early years of the 19th century, Alghero benefited by the construction of its first theatre, named “the Theater of the Amateurs,” and situated near the ancient Jesuit College. Fifty years later, there were calls to build a new Civic Theatre in Piazza Vittorio Emanuele (Vittorio Emanuele Square) in an area belonging to the municipality, called Calasanz. Construction was begun in 1858 based on a design by architect Franco Poggi and was completed in 1862, followed thereafter by the theatre's inauguration. The edifice is unique in Sardinia in that its entirely supported structure was made out of wood.

Headquarters of The Workers' Mutual Aid Association  8
Bastioni Magellano ramparts | Alghero's historic town centre

Opening times:
Sunday 10am-1pm / 4pm-8pm

The use of face masks is mandatory

The headquarters of the Workers' Mutual Aid Association, a goodwill organisation operating in the pension and welfare sector, was opened in Alghero in 1883. In it, it is possible to admire a collection of vintage reproductions and original paintings depicting members of the Savoy family, Giuseppe Mazzini, Giuseppe Garibaldi and Giuseppe Verdi, as well as a large painting going back as far as the 20's celebrating the Lateran Treaty.

Sulis Tower  9
Sulis Square

Opening times:
Saturday 9:30 am - 8 pm
Sunday 10am-8pm

The use of face masks is mandatory

Built in the first half of the 16th century, it constituted one of the bulwarks of the fortifications of Alghero. La Torre dello Sperone (The Tower of the Royal Spur, in Catalan, Espèrò Reyàl) takes its name from the presence of, in the shelter of the tower, an offshoot of the fortification—that is, a spur. Today, it is better known by the name Torre di Sulis after the revolutionary from Cagliari, Vincenzo Sulis, who was imprisoned inside, spending a good twenty-two years of isolation within its walls.

MUSA Civic Archaeological Museum  10
72 Carlo Alberto St. | Alghero's historic town centre

Opening times:
Saturday and Sunday 10am-1pm/4pm-8pm

The use of face masks is mandatory

The Archaeological Museum of The City holds the oldest evidence of man's presence in the territory, from the proto-history, to the Nuragic epoch, to the Phoenician and Roman period. A well-defined exhibition path around three particularly significant subjects for Alghero and its territory: the sea, the ways of inhabiting, the world of the sacred. The Museum stands in Carlo Alberto Street, in the hearth of the old town. It is housed in a recently renovated building that was once the location of a monastic complex annexed to St Michael's Church.

Monumental Complex and Church of Saint Francis  11
46 Carlo Alberto St. | Alghero's historic town centre

Opening times:
Saturday 10am - 3pm / Sunday 10am - 4pm

The use of face masks is mandatory

This church was built at the end of the 15th century in a Gothic-Catalan form by the Conventual Minor Brothers who had been present in the town since the first decades of 1300s. In 1593 the building suffered a collapse that destroyed its central part of the church. Although partially reconstructed in 1598, the church maintains the presbytery, the adjacent chapels, the first two chapels in the counter-façade. The cloister dates back to the same Gothic phase.

MACOR Coral Museum  12
8 XX Settembre St. | Alghero's historic town centre

Opening times: Saturday and Sunday
10am-1pm/4pm-8pm

The use of face masks is mandatory

The Museum offers visitors a vision of the richness of our Mediterranean Sea represented specifically by Corallium Rubrum, intimately linked to Alghero and its territory. A fascinating journey in the marine ecosystem, in the history of this precious living organism, in works of art that are created with it, a dive in the sea that surrounds the city and that much has and continues to give to his people.

Villa Las Tronas Hotel  13
1 Lungomare Valencia promenade Alghero. Entrance through the gate by the stairway to the cove.

Opening times: Saturday and Sunday
10am-1pm/4pm-7pm

The use of face masks is mandatory

Built around 1880 by Count Alessandro di Sant'Elia as a hunting lodge, the villa underwent subsequent major transformations that altered its original layout, and giving the building the appearance of a medieval castle, following the architectural style that was widespread among noble families in the early decades of the 20th century. It was for quite a long time a holiday resort for noblemen and people of letters. Members of the Savoy royal house and the imperial Romanov family stayed here. As well as the famous writer and aviator Antoine de Saint Exupéry. In the late 1950s, the villa had new owners who turned it into a hotel. At the end of the 1950s, the villa had new owners who turned it into a hotel, and since then among others, the playwright Samuel Beckett, the actors Virna Lisi, Liz Taylor and Richard Burton, the singers Gianna Nannini and Madonna have stayed there.

Library of Fraternity and Mercy "G. Pezzi"  14
66 Giovanni XXIII St. | Alghero

Opening times:
Saturday 10:30 am-1pm/4pm-8pm

The use of face masks is mandatory

The Library of the Fraternita della Misericordia “G. Pezzi” was founded in 1984 thanks to the then president Dr. Mario Sari and the Rector Don Salvatore Marongiu. Its creation is due to the donation of 4800 volumes by the illustrious fellow citizen Giuseppe Pezzi, Medical Admiral and Professor of History of Medicine at the Universities of Rome and Naples. The book collection was later enriched with the donations of Beppe Sechi Copello and Antonio Era. The library's book heritage contains a special section with books of considerable historical interest from the 16th and 18th centuries.

Egea Eco-museum A light on memory  15
21 State road SS127bis | Fertilia

Opening times: Saturday and Sunday
10am-12pm/4pm-7pm

The use of face masks is mandatory

The Museum strives to make known the history of a land made fertile by the work of man; a land that welcomed people from Sardinia, Alghero, Ferrara, Veneto, Istria, Fiume, Dalmatia, those repatriated from Libya, Eritrea, Corsica and numerous other people who came at different times from every corner of the globe.

This Museum aims to “keep a light on memory” and to “bring together the threads of history” for all those who have been forced by overwhelming historical events to leave their birthplace in search of a new landing place in which to carry out their existence in freedom.

Domus de Janas of Cuguttu Necropolis of Taulera  16
Fleming Str. | Alghero

Opening times:
Saturday 10:30 am-1pm/4pm-8pm
Sunday 10am-1pm/4pm-8pm

The archaeological site is located in the northern part of Alghero, in the town district of the Pietraia, also known as Taulera. The area consists of carbonate rocks dating back to the Middle Jurassic with calcite crystallisation and various layers of both hard-compact and friable workable rocks. While a botanical perspective focuses better on fruit trees of fig, white asphodels, mock privets, false dandelions on limestone and bramble thorny shrubs. Since the early 20th century, several archaeological finds belonging to the Bonnanaro, Campaniform and Ozieri cultures have been found in the Domus de Janas of Cuguttu. These artefacts are now on display at the MAN National Archaeological Museum in Cagliari and at the MUSA Alghero's Civic Museum, including a vase with a comb-type geometric decorations and a drilled skull.
